Mogappair (East) Police Station construction work commences

By N Rathi Chithra

Construction work on a new building for the V3 J J Nagar East Police Station has finally begun after a long delay. The new building is being constructed at the original premises at the beginning of Valayapathi Salai in Mogappair East. The previous building was demolished nearly two years ago, and since then, the V3 J J Nagar Police Station has been functioning from the premises of the Nolambur Police Station building.

After much delay, work has begun on laying the foundation for the police station building. This has been welcomed by the residents of Mogappair East, who have been eagerly waiting for the construction of the new building. Rajkumar, a resident of Mogappair East, expressed his happiness and said that once the new building is constructed, people in the area will be able to easily access the law enforcers for any complaints. Currently, residents have to go all the way up to the Nolambur Police Station to lodge complaints for cases falling within the jurisdiction of the V3 J J Nagar Police Station.

The residents of Mogappair East have been waiting for the construction of the new police station building for a long time. The delay in the construction has been a cause of concern for the residents, as they have been facing difficulties in accessing the police station for their grievances.

The residents are hoping that the new building will be modern in outlook and will have all the necessary facilities. They are also hoping that the new building will be constructed using the latest technology and will be able to meet the requirements of the modern era.

The commencement of civil works on the new building for the V3 J J Nagar East Police Station is a welcome development, said residents, adding that the outlook of the police force also must change. "Having a modern police station is one thing, but changing the outlook of the police force is what is more crucial. The police must adopt a humane approach in dealing with complaints as well as avoid using third degree methods with those suspected of having been involved in any crime," said Guru Nathan, a lawyer.

Frontier Lifeline performs life-saving procedure in septuagenarian

Frontier Lifeline Hospital performed a life-saving procedure in a septuagenarian with heart rhythm disorder. A 75 year old male patient with multiple heart attack events in the past, presented with incessant palpitation to the Frontier Lifeline Hospital & Dr. KM Cherian Heart Foundation. He had developed worsening heart failure due to persistent fast heart rate.

The usual medical measures failed to restore the normal sinus rhythm. Doctors team in the FLL hospital led by Dr Sakthivel, Cardiac Electrophysiologist and Dr Sandhya, Senior Interventional Cardiologist, successfully performed a complex ventricular arrhythmia (VT) ablation procedure in the sick patient, which took five hours to completely get rid of the arrhythmia.

The patient had aortic valve disease and the procedure was to be carried out through a hole made in the wall of the heart. Subsequently the patient improved well and the cardiac defibrillator (shock) device was implanted in him to prevent the occurrence of sudden cardiac death. Dr Sakthivel told us that the patient's heart had an electrical storm due to the underlying heart disease and this could prove fatal if not treated in time.

Dr. KM Cherian informed that this ablation was a life saving emergency electrophysiological procedure performed with state-of-the-art infrastructure available in our hospital.

Dr Sandhya reiterated the importance of heart failure management to prevent these arrhythmic events in the long term.

Police arrest drug dealer who escaped from custody

By Our Correspondent

In an act that drew wide appreciation for the police personnel in the Anna Nagar Division of the Greater Chennai City Police, one of the notorious drug dealers, who had escaped from police custody earlier, was caught by them this past week.

According to sources in the Greater Chennai City Police, Rakesh, claimed to be a notorious kingpin of the illegal drug circuit, was arrested by the Anna Nagar Police personnel on Wednesday last.

Rakesh, police said, hailed from the State of West Bengal and he led a drug racket in different parts including in the Metropolitan City of Chennai. Police claimed that he dealt with the illegal sale of ganja, which was sold through intermediaries in different parts of the Tamil Nadu Capital including in Anna Nagar and its surroundings. "Last month Rakesh was arrested by the personnel of the Prohibition Wing of the Police Department. On April 24, the personnel attached to the Prohibition Wing had escorted him to be produced before the jurisdictional magistrate so that he could be remanded in judicial custody. However, the drug dealer managed to give the slip to the accompanying police personnel and made good his escape much to the embarrassment of the Police Department," said a police officer in the Anna Nagar Division of the Greater Chennai City police.

However, days later the Anna Nagar Police personnel managed to track and arrest Rakesh.

A section of residents in and around the neighbourhood of Anna Nagar, when contacted by this Correspondent, hailed the action of the police in arresting an accused who had fled from custody. At the same time, the residents also called for greater vigil in the neighbourhood of Anna Nagar to prevent the illegal sale of ganja and other drugs.

"We are happy that the Anna Nagar Police personnel arrested a drug dealer who had escaped from custody earlier. At the same time, the police must take strong measures to ensure that drugs are not sold in any part of the neighbourhood. They must increase vigil in and around educational institutions where anti-socials target impressionable minds and sell ganja to them," said a resident Naresh Sinha.

Seized 2-wheelers parked outside Thirumangalam Police Station

By N Rathi Chithra

Dozens of motorcycles and scooters have been parked outside the Thirumangalam Police Station in Anna Nagar West for many months now. These two-wheelers have been seized from riders for various reasons, such as not having the required documents under the Motor Vehicles Act or being involved in violations of law. Some of these vehicles may even be stolen motorcycles and scooters.

These vehicles have been parked abutting the compound wall of the modern police station building, bound by chains and also barricaded. However, activists such as Gunasekhar are not pleased. They believe that the police should take steps to identify the owners of the seized vehicles and return the vehicles to them if they have all relevant documents. Simply parking these vehicles outside the police station for months exposes them to the vagaries of nature, and many of these motorcycles and scooters have deflated tyres due to lack of maintenance.

In addition, some local residents have also voiced their concerns. They argue that if the vehicles do not have the required documents, then the police should take steps to legally auction them off so that they can be of use to someone. Otherwise, there is no point in retaining the vehicles in the custody of the police station, says Dharamarajan, a lawyer. He adds that these two-wheelers are actually occupying a lot of public space, and the space needs to be freed up so that it could be used by other motorists for parking in the busy locality if required.

A police officer in Anna Nagar division of the Chennai City Traffic Police said they are aware of the situation and are working on a solution. Necessary steps would be taken to identify the owners of the seized vehicles and return the vehicles to them if they have all the necessary documents. However, for those vehicles that are not claimed by their owners, the police will follow the proper legal procedures, the officer explained. Acknowledging the concerns about the parking of the seized vehicles outside the police station, the officer said they will work towards finding a suitable location to park these vehicles in the future. In the meantime, they will make sure that the motorcycles and scooters are well-maintained to prevent further damage.

Pranav finishes runner-up

GrandMaster V Pranav, Class 12 of Velammal Vidyalaya, Mel Ayanambakkam finished runner-up and won a cash award of 2,400 Euro and Trophy at the Menorca Open 2023 held in Menorca, Spain recently.

His incredible performance ended on a tie for the 1st place with 7/9 points with 5 wins & 4 draws and a ELO rating of 2746 points.

This Menorca format is a nine-round Swiss tournament wherein varied mix of top rated and upcoming players across the globe participate.

Automatic cheque deposit machine for property tax

An automated system of property tax payment through machine was inaugurated by the Chennai Mayor R Priya for the use of the public on Friday.

In collaboration with Federal Bank, the Greater Chennai Corporation launched the property tax payment system for owners through an automatic machine by paying through cheque and generating a bill of sale easily at Ripon building.

Property Owners Website, Tax Collectors, Bharath Bill Payment System and Service Centers located in Greater Chennai Corporation premises have made it possible to pay their property tax easily through Credit Card, Debit Card, Net Banking, QR Code Scan, VPN Address, Cheque and Draft.

Following this, Federal Bank has collaborated with Chennai Corporation to facilitate payment of property tax and receipt of receipts through automatic machines.

Pay using QR code at PDS shops

The facility to pay through UPI by scanning a QR code at PDS shops was kick started in the State on Friday. In the first phase, the QR Code system has been introduced in 602 fair price shops. Ration card holders can now use the QR code to pay for the items purchased.

The payment via QR code is considered as a step to reduce direct cash transactions and promote cashless modes of transactions.

It may be noted that PDS shops are among the last business establishments in the State to jump into the cash less transaction as many small time shops on the pavement to large supermarkets and departmental stores have already moved to cashless transactions over the last few years.

Good hand hygiene, effective way to promote well-being

On May 5th, healthcare professionals worldwide commemorated World Hand Hygiene Day. This year's theme was highlights the critical role that proper hand hygiene plays in reducing the transmission of germs and bacteria.

In light of the pandemic, the World Health Organization (WHO) is emphasising the importance of proper hand hygiene in preventing the spread of infections. According to the WHO, one of the most effective ways to prevent the spread of germs and bacteria is through proper hand washing. The virus can survive on surfaces for hours, and touching contaminated surfaces can easily spread the virus to hands, which can lead to infection if people touch their face or mouth.

WHO recommends washing hands frequently with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, especially after coming into contact with potentially contaminated surfaces. If soap and water are not available, hand sanitisers containing at least 60% alcohol can be used as an alternative.

Practising good hand hygiene offers numerous benefits, including reducing the risk of getting sick, preventing the spread of infectious diseases.

Experts recommend washing or sanitising your hands before handling or eating food, after using the restroom, and after coughing, sneezing, or blowing your nose. It's also important to sanitise or wash your hands after touching animals. If you are caring for someone who is sick, remember to wash your hands before and after. Lastly, make sure to wash or sanitise your hands after handling garbage or anything that may be contaminated. Practising good hand hygiene is a simple yet effective way to promote the overall well-being of an individual.

In conclusion, World Hand Hygiene Day serves as a reminder of the importance of proper hand hygiene in preventing the spread of infectious diseases. By following simple handwashing procedures.

HC clears decks for release of 'Pichaikkaran 2'

The Madras High Court on Friday refused to grant an injunction against Vijay Antony starrer 'Pichaikkaran 2', paving the way for its release in cinemas, OTTs and other platforms. Justice S Sounthar declined to grant the stay as sought by V Rajaganapthy, a film producer-owning Mangadu Amman Movies and dismissed the petition filed by him.

Yet, the judge directed Vijay Antony Film Corporation Private Limited to submit the accounts of proceeds accrued through the movie within sixty days of its release. Rajaganapathi sought the interim injunction against the release on the grounds of infringement of copyright of his story 'Aaivukoodam'. He pleaded for staying the release until a copyright suit filed by him is disposed of.

Advocate Vijayan Subramanian, appearing for Vijay Antony's production company, contended the story and screenplay of the movie have no connection with the film 'Aaivukoodam', and not even a single scene matches with it.
