Shock waves over attack on restaurant staff in Ambattur

By Our Correspondent

PANIC swept through Ambattur Industrial Estate last weekend following a violent incident at a local restaurant, raising fresh concerns about safety in the area. The attack unfolded when a group of three individuals, after consuming food at a restaurant, refused to pay their bill. When the cashier confronted them, the situation quickly escalated into a quarrel. One of the men, armed with a large machete, attacked the cashier, injuring him.

The shocking incident was captured by the restaurant's CCTV cameras. "We were all terrified," said a man, who claimed to have witnessed the attack. "The man pulled out the machete suddenly, and before we could react, the cashier was already hurt. It was a traumatic experience," he said.

The attack sent shockwaves through the area, with locals and business owners expressing their alarm over such incidents of violence in the vicinity. "Ambattur has always been a busy industrial hub, but recently, there's been a growing sense of unease," said Arun, a local shopkeeper. "Incidents like these make people feel unsafe, and something needs to be done," he added.

Following the attack, the Avadi Police Commissionerate took immediate action, launching an investigation. The Nazarathpet police arrested three individuals involved in the attack. According to the police, the trio had been involved in similar violent incidents at other locations in the past. "This group has a history of such behaviour, and we are doing everything we can to ensure they are held accountable," said a senior police officer involved in the investigation.

The accused were remanded in judicial custody, and the police have vowed to continue their efforts to tackle violent crimes in the area. However, locals remain concerned about the lack of visible police presence, especially in the evenings.

"This is not the first time something like this has happened," said Venkatesh, a resident of Ambattur. "Just two months ago, three youths were arrested by the Ambattur Tank Factory police for attacking passersby with knives. That attack injured at least five people. If we don't increase police patrols, things will only get worse," he said.

Apply for jobs in JJB & CWC before March 7

As part of the formation of the Juvenile Justice Board (JJB) and Child Welfare Committee (CWC), the Department of Children Welfare and Special Services has invited candidates to apply for various posts like social worker, chairperson and CWC members across Tamil Nadu districts before March 7. For constituting the Juvenile Justice Board, the department has invited applications for the post of two social workers (one woman) from 14 districts of Tamil Nadu. The posts are slated to be filled under section 4 of the Juvenile Justice (care and protection of children) Act, 2015. "The applicants must be within 35 to 65 years. The pay has however been announced as per honorarium basis," says a press release. Further details on the eligibility criteria are available at https://dsdcpimms.tn.gov.in. The department has requested applicants to apply for all the above posts before 5 pm on March 7.

S. Mithilan (Class 1) of Velammal Vidyalaya Annexure, won two gold in 100m road and 200m rink events and a silver in the team relay at the 24th National Speed Skating Championship organized by the Speed Skating Federation of India (SSFI) in Madurai.

CMRL SUBMITS DPR FOR EXTENSION

CHENNAI Metro Rail plans to expand its network with the submission of a Detailed Project Report (DPR) for a new 21.76 km extension from Koyambedu to Pattabiram along the Outer Ring Road. The project, estimated to cost Rs 9,744 crore, aims to enhance connectivity across several key areas.

The proposed extension will commence at the existing Koyambedu metro station and traverse through bustling localities including Padi Pudhu Nagar, Mogappair, Ambattur, Thirumullaivoyal and Avadi before culminating at Pattabiram (ORR). Along this route, passengers will enjoy seamless integration with important transport hubs such as Ambattur Estate Terminus & Ambattur OT, Avadi Railway Station and a major bus terminus, facilitating easier transfers and reducing travel times. A standout feature of the project is the integration of three strategically located flyovers at Ambattur Estate Bus Depot junction, near Dunlop and right in front of Avadi bus stand.

Our ambition is to produce 40GMs by 2030: Velmohan

By R Srinivasa Raghavan

VELAMMAL has been at the forefront of chess growth in Chennai for more than two decades. The school's unstinted support for chess has resulted in their students scaling Himalayan heights. Dommaraju Gukesh brought joy to the whole country, becoming the youngest World chess champion at 18 in Singapore last year, which remains Velammal's biggest achievement. The school has so far given 21 GMs and two WGMs to India. Praggnanandhaa R, VR Aravindh Chithambaram, B Adhiban, SP Sethuraman, N Srinath and Vaishali R are some of the renowned Indian players to have studied in their school. Siddharth Jagadeesh, who represented Singapore at the Chess Olympiad in Budapest last year, was the former student of the school. One can understand the impact of Velammal on chess, when it has produced a GM from another country! In an interview with MOGAPPAIR MAIL, Velavan, who joined Velammal in 2015, shares his experiences as a chess coordinator of Velammal, and their future plans.

Velavan helping his wards make the right moves

Excerpts:

Q: How happy are you with Velammal's contribution to chess growth in Chennai. Can you elaborate?
A: As a chess coordinator, I am pleased with Velammal's immense contribution to the growth of chess in Chennai. Their commitment to developing young talents has had a profound impact on the chess community. By providing structured training programmes, experienced coaches, and regular competitive opportunities, they have played a vital role in nurturing future champions. Velammal's efforts have not only elevated the standard of chess in Chennai but have also contributed to India's growing dominance in the sport. It's inspiring to see their dedication shaping the next generation of players.

Q: What is your role as a chess coordinator in Velammal?
A: Training and development. Identifying and enrolling talented students into the chess programme and coordinating training sessions with experienced coaches. Acting as a bridge between management and the chess players. Providing financial support, coordinating travel, accommodation and logistics for players to compete in tournaments. Monitoring students' progress and analysing their performances. Motivating students to participate in events and improve their ratings. Conducting special sessions by bringing GMs and chess experts.

Q: From which year did Velammal start promoting chess seriously?
A: From the year 2000.

Q: How much Velammal has contributed in Dommaraju Gukesh becoming a World chess champion?
A: Velammal has been backing Gukesh since he was five. From the age of nine, Velammal has been supporting him in training and financially. Super computer worth 18 lakhs was provided to Gukesh before the Candidates. A special felicitation program was arranged for Gukesh in Velammal campus with around 10,000 students to celebrate his victory in the Candidates. He was gifted with a Mercedes Benz (costs around one crore). The school also wished him for the World Chess Championship with a tag "go and win". One more grand felicitation has been arranged on February 28 to celebrate Gukesh becoming the youngest World chess champion.

Q: On the role of Correspondent MVM Velmohan in Velammal players making a mark at world level?
A: Our correspondent MVM Velmohan has played a vital role in shaping Velammal's chess legacy and helping their players make a mark at the world level. His vision, leadership and commitment to promoting chess have been instrumental in creating a structured and highly competitive environment for budding talents. He has ensured state-of-the-art facilities, including dedicated chess training centres, digital learning tools and libraries. He has also facilitated sponsorships, scholarships and logistical support for travel and training abroad. By instilling confidence and discipline, he has inspired students to strive for excellence. The institution has become a powerhouse of chess in India. His ambition is to produce 40 GMs by 2030.

Q: Is chess a subject in school or can it be taken as an extracurricular activity.
A: Currently chess is part of extracurricular activity. However, we are planning to make chess part of the curriculum.

Q: What are the future plans of Velammal in producing more chess champions?
A: Mission: 40 GMs by 2030. Setting a structured roadmap for players. Implementing Artificial Intelligence driven (AI) chess analysis tools for deeper game study. Conducting chess camps with world class trainers. Introducing full scholarships for young prodigies with high potential.

'Healthy heart for the Young'

WITH the alarming increase in heart attacks among young adults in recent years, there is an urgent need to address the risk factors associated with this illness. As children are the future adults, making them aware of these risks and identifying such factors early on is crucial.

Dr. C. Shanthi, Cardiologist

To educate parents and empower them to raise children with strong hearts, CSI Ewarts Higher Secondary School at Anna Nagar West Extension held a 'Healthy Heart for the Young' awareness session on Feb 13. The session was conducted by Dr. C. Shanthi, a senior Pediatric Cardiologist, was enthusiastically attended by parents and teachers. The interactions between the participants and Dr. Shanthi were very fruitful, clarifying the facts and myths about cardiac risks in children.

The school's correspondent Victor Chandran and Principal Sunira Samuel organised this program

They intend to hold regular sessions for the benefit of the children. Dr. C. Shanthi, with 35 years of experience and 24 years of association with legends like Dr. K. M. Cherian, mentioned that she wishes to visit as many schools as possible to spread awareness among children and parents about heart disease risk reduction. She can be contacted at consult@tmcardiac.com or +91 9952002958.

The Adayalampattu village road in Nolambur leading towards S & P Garden, has become a dumping ground for garbage, including debris from demolished buildings, fronds, fruit waste from vendors and so on. Certainly an eye sore for residents proceeding in that direction. Will not the authorities concerned take action to stop this from happening.

CREDAI's expo rewrites history

THE FAIRPRO 2025 expo conducted by CREDAI (Confederation of Real Estate Developer' Associations of India) has registered a total sale of 385 bookings to the tune of Rs 363 crore in three days.

A release from CREDAI said the 17th edition of FAIRPRO 2025, held from February 14 to 16 in Chennai has rewritten history by getting past all previous records in participation, bookings, and sales volume.

"The overwhelming response from homebuyers and investors has further cemented FAIRPRO as South India's largest and most trusted real estate expo," the release added.

The expo witnessed 44,712 walk-ins, resulting in 385 bookings and Rs 363 crore in total sales value. "These numbers are expected to increase, as many prospective buyers are scheduled for site visits before finalising their purchases," it said.

The expo featured 80 leading developers showcasing over 500 projects, including apartments, plots, villas, and commercial spaces. During the expo, five leading banks sanctioned home loans, with SBI leading the disbursement volume.

MK Rudhrasree of Velammal Vidyalaya won a trophy as a quarter finalist in the Chennai District Table Tennis Championship 2024-25 in under-11 girls category.

Residents demand timely removal of tree waste

By N Rathi Chithra

RESIDENTS of Mogappair East and West have voiced concerns over the growing accumulation of tree waste in their neighbourhoods, urging the Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC) to implement a more efficient plan of action for timely waste removal. The issue, which has become a regular nuisance, stems from fallen tree branches, residents trimming branches around their homes, and the seasonal shedding of leaves, which are often left uncollected for extended periods.

"The problem has been persistent for a long time. During the monsoon and post-monsoon seasons, tree branches often fall onto the roads, creating an obstruction. Sometimes, residents like me trim the branches near our homes, but when the conservancy staff doesn't clear the waste promptly, it piles up and causes a lot of inconvenience," said Rajendran, a resident of Mogappair West.

While fallen tree branches and leaves are a natural part of life in urban areas, the delay in clearing them has caused growing frustration among the community. Many residents pointed out that such waste can lead to hygiene issues, clogged drains, and even potential safety hazards.

"Leaf shedding is particularly problematic during certain seasons, like the monsoon. The conservancy staff usually come around, but they don't clear the fallen branches and leaves quickly enough. It can take days before we see any clean up. Meanwhile, the waste accumulates, and the streets become dirty," said Mayura, a resident of Mogappair East.

The delay in clearing tree waste not only affects the cleanliness of the locality but also raises concerns about public health. "During the rainy season, these piles of leaves and branches can block water drains, which worsens the flooding problem. It's a simple issue that needs a solution – the conservancy workers should clear tree waste more regularly, or at least within a fixed time frame," added Venkatesh, a local shopkeeper.

Residents are calling for a more organised and timely approach to waste clearance, particularly after tree branches or large piles of leaves have been cut or have fallen. Many are advocating for a fixed schedule for waste removal in the area, emphasising that the issue could be resolved with better planning and coordination between the GCC and conservancy agencies. They are hopeful that the GCC will take steps to address the issue.

MINISTER REVIEWS 14417 HELPLINE

WITH the students about to appear for their board exams, the Minister of School Education Anbil Mahesh Poyyamozhi reviewed the education department's toll-free helpline number 14417, on the DPI campus a few days ago. As many as 65 counsellors have been appointed to attend to calls and provide information and guidance related to the department. From students to parents and teachers, all stakeholders are encouraged to use this service, which is open throughout the day. The minister, during the inspection tour, encouraged students to take the exams without fear.
