Tarring works undertaken on 6th Avenue; Relief to motorists and residents

By N Rathi Chithra

AFTER months of complaints and mounting frustration among residents, the Greater Chennai Corporation has finally undertaken tarring works on 6th Avenue in Ward 100 of Anna Nagar zone, bringing much-needed relief to motorists and pedestrians in the area.

The road-laying works, which began recently, cover a key stretch of 6th Avenue that had been riddled with potholes, uneven surfaces, and damaged patches. Residents say the poor condition of the road had made commuting a daily ordeal, especially during peak hours and the monsoon season when stagnant water would collect in craters along the stretch.

"For several months, we have been requesting the authorities to relay the road. It had become extremely difficult for two-wheelers and elderly pedestrians," said a resident of the locality. "We are relieved that the Corporation has finally acted."

Ward 100 falls under the Anna Nagar zone, one of Chennai's prominent residential and commercial hubs. The 6th Avenue is a busy arterial stretch connecting interior residential streets to main thoroughfares, and is lined with shops, apartments, and small offices. Frequent vehicular movement had further worsened the road surface over time.

Local residents pointed out that repeated patchwork repairs in the past had offered only temporary relief. "They used to fill up potholes, but within weeks, the surface would break again. This time, we hope it is a complete relaying with proper base work," another resident said.

Officials overseeing the project stated that the current works involve laying a fresh layer of bitumen after preparing the base to ensure durability. The stretch is being levelled and compacted before the final tarring process. Traffic diversions have been put in place in certain sections to facilitate smooth execution of the works. "Relaying the road is welcome, but maintenance is equally important," a senior citizen noted.

As the works continue, locals hope the fresh tar surface will provide smoother and safer travel for years to come — and that such delays in civic action will not recur in the future.

Next survey to trace unlicensed pet dogs

PLEASED by the response to the pet dog microchipping and licensing drive, the Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC) will begin a door-to-door survey soon to identify unlicensed dogs across the city.

It has been found that many owners had failed to turn up at Animal Birth Control centres for microchipping even after the deadline.

So far 74,000 pet dogs have been licensed so far. Over 20,000 owners have registered online but did not complete the licensing process.

The free registration drive began on Oct 8. After multiple extensions from Nov 23 to Dec 7, the final deadline to comply without penalty was Dec 14. Since then, officials have been using RFID scanners to identify unlicensed dogs and impose penalties.

A fine of Rs 5,000 is being levied for keeping an unlicensed dog, while Rs 500 is charged for walking a dog without a leash in public places. Owners who completed online registration but failed to obtain a physical licence are being fined Rs 500.

Chandhana Shri of Velammal Vidyalaya, Mel Ayanambakkam displayed remarkable concentration and elegance by securing three gold medals in Shivakala, Mardhanikala and Dhanpata, earning applause and admiration from all present.

At Velammal Vidyalaya, Mel Ayanambakkam, students from LKG to Grade XII who achieved 100% attendance were honoured with trophies and certificates.

Anna Nagar residents shocked over illegal hair transplant clinic

By N Rathi Chithra

A section of residents of Anna Nagar, long regarded as one of Chennai's most posh and well-planned neighbourhoods, was left stunned this past week after police uncovered an unregistered hair transplant clinic allegedly run by unqualified personnel in the heart of the locality.

The revelation that surgical procedures were being performed without qualified doctors in a premium residential and commercial zone has triggered widespread disbelief. "We expect such irregularities in remote areas, not in Anna Nagar," said a resident of Third Avenue. "It is shocking that something so serious could happen right under our noses."

On Tuesday, the K4 Anna Nagar Police arrested three men for allegedly operating "Mister Hair Clinic" on Third Avenue without proper registration under the Tamil Nadu Medical Institutions (Regulation) Act. The arrests followed an inspection conducted by a team led by Dr. Meenakshi Sundari, Joint Director (Law), Directorate of Medical and Rural Health Services, Chennai, based on her complaint.

tions revealed that the clinic had been functioning for nearly 10 months and that multiple hair transplant procedures had allegedly been performed by individuals lacking adequate medical qualifications. The arrested men were identified as Jagvir Singh (33) of Arumbakkam and Hardeep Singh (24) of Anna Nagar, both natives of Punjab who had studied only up to Class 12 and worked in the operating theatre. The third accused, Jaffer Siddique (27) of Anna Nagar East, a native of Vellore, held a diploma in Anaesthesia and worked as a technician, allegedly administering anaesthesia to patients.

During the inspection, officials reportedly found that a patient, M. Chandrasekhar (31), had undergone a hair transplant procedure without a qualified doctor being present. Investigators were further alarmed to discover that Chandrasekhar had gone on to advise another patient, Rohit, who had visited the clinic for treatment.

Police also said that a homeopathic doctor, Vijayalakshmi, was associated with the clinic and had provided medical advice to patients seeking surgical hair restoration.

According to investigators, individuals without sufficient medical education were directly involved in conducting procedures, thereby endangering lives and deceiving members of the public.

The incident has rattled residents, many of whom said they chose Anna Nagar for its reputation for quality healthcare facilities and orderly civic infrastructure. "We trust the name and the area. That trust has been shaken," said another resident.

Police have registered a case and further investigation is underway to ascertain the full extent of procedures carried out at the clinic.

Dhanvitha Malini of Velammal Vidyalaya, Mel Ayanambakkam, clinched the 1st Overall Championship Trophy along with three gold medals at the National archery event.

Suleymenov triumphs

By R Srinivasa Raghavan

ALISHER Suleymenov emerged champion in the Chola Chess GM Norm Round Robin Tournament in Chennai. Kazakhstan GM sealed the crown with a +3 score (6/9; four wins, one loss and four draws). In the 10-player closed tournament, he gained 11.9 rating points, besides having a performance rating of 2599.

Suleymenov's best chess moment came in 2023, when he stunned world No.1 and five-time World champion Magnus Carlsen at the Qatar Masters. Victory in Chennai should spur him to do well for the rest of 2026. There was a two-way tie for the second spot between Indians Ethan Vaz and Audi Ameya (both 5.5), with Ethan taking the second spot, thanks to better tie-break. Audi finished third.

Bull attack in Mogappair leaves senior citizen dead

By Our Correspondent

A 65-year-old resident of Mogappair was gored to death by a bull earlier this month, triggering shock and outrage in the neighbourhood and prompting swift action from the Nollambur police, who have booked the cattle owner.

The deceased, identified as Balaraman, was walking along the road near his residence in Mogappair when the bull, which was standing nearby, suddenly charged at him. According to eyewitnesses, the animal attacked without provocation, tossing him several feet into the air. He sustained severe head injuries in the assault.

Passersby rushed to his aid and immediately took him to a nearby hospital. However, doctors declared him brought dead.

Preliminary investigations by the Nollambur police revealed that the same bull had allegedly attacked several residents in the locality in the past. Acting swiftly on complaints from residents and based on initial findings, the police registered a case against the cattle owner.

Residents of Mogappair and neighbouring Nollambur have hailed the prompt action of the Nollambur police, saying it sends a strong message to irresponsible cattle owners who allow their animals to roam freely on busy streets.

"This is not the first time such an incident has happened. We have been living in fear because stray cattle roam freely, especially during the evenings," said a resident of Mogappair East. "We appreciate the police for booking the owner. Strict action is the need of the hour."

Many residents pointed out that the menace of stray cattle has become a persistent problem in Mogappair and Nollambur, with bulls and cows often seen occupying roads, blocking traffic and posing danger to pedestrians, children, and elderly citizens.

The issue has repeatedly been highlighted in the columns of Mogappair Mail, which has carried several reports in the past flagging the risks posed by unattended cattle in residential areas. Despite periodic warnings and civic appeals, locals allege that little deterrent action was taken until this tragic incident.

In several stretches of Mogappair East, West and Nollambur, cattle are often tethered loosely or left to wander, creating hazardous conditions. Residents say the situation worsens during early mornings and late evenings, when visibility is low and streets are busy with walkers and commuters. "This tragedy could have been prevented if earlier complaints had been taken seriously by all stakeholders," another resident said. "Now an innocent life has been lost." Civic activists are calling for coordinated action by the Greater Chennai Corporation, the police, and the animal husbandry department to identify cattle owners, impose penalties, and ensure that animals are not left unattended on public roads.

Dhakshineswar looks the future of Indian tennis

By R Srinivasa Raghavan

DHAKSHINESWAR Suresh conjured up a scintillating performance to power India into the second round of Davis Cup qualifiers. The 25-year-old won three matches as India pulled off an upset 3-2 victory over higher-ranked The Netherlands in Bengaluru. It was India's best victory in recent times.

He looks like the future of Indian tennis, especially in singles, thanks to his booming serves and big forehands. Sumit Nagal, who is No.1 Indian player in singles, had a breakthrough 2024, breaking into the top 100, besides competing in all the four Grand Slams. However, Nagal had a tough 2025, having a big drop in the rankings (293 in the world). Along with Suresh, Nagal can take the Indian tennis forward in singles if he can regain his best form again.

Ranked 457th in the world, Suresh levelled it 1-1 for India on the first day, making short work of Dutch No.1 (in this tie) Jesper De Jong. Earlier, India's top player Nagal went down to Guy Den Ouden in a close match. India's non-playing captain Rohit Rajpal fielding Suresh (instead of regular doubles player Sriram Balaji) along with Yuki Bhambri in doubles paid off for the hosts. Suresh and Bhambri gave India

2-1 lead with a victory over David Pel and Sander Arends Jesper De Jong made it 2-2 for the Dutch, prevailing over Nagal.

Roared on by a boisterous crowd, Suresh kept his cool to clinch the match for India, beating back the challenge of Guy Den Ouden in straight sets. He served with such assurance; he was not broken in both his singles matches!

If India can put it across Korea in the second round in September, India will qualify for the World Group for the first time since 2011.

The Netherlands captain Paul Haarhuis was effusive in his praise of Suresh: "Hats off to Suresh, who played fantastic tennis," Haarhuis said to DavisCup.com. "He carried the Indian team. He's definitely not ranked where he should be ranked, when he plays like this. I'm not sure if he's playing enough tournaments. I think he will definitely improve his ranking very fast as soon as he turns pro. He's got a good future. What he showed this weekend was very promising."

Suresh has won all his matches in Davis Cup so far (three singles and one doubles).

"It's just a different feeling when you're playing for your country," reflected a happy Suresh after his victory. "You are not playing for yourself, you're playing for the whole nation. I have played some different tennis in these last four matches at the Davis Cup. I'm really happy that I did that."

Suresh, who studies at the Wake Forest University, USA, aims to pursue tennis fully after finishing his college education.
