Auto-debit to enable customers pay bills on time

DOMESTIC, commercial and other low-tension electricity consumers in the state can now pay the electricity bill by enabling the auto-debit facility. This will ensure timely payment of power consumption charges and avoid penalties. Tamil Nadu Power Distribution Corporation Ltd (TNP-DCL) has introduced this system in collaboration with the Federal Bank through the National Automated Clearing House (NACH) platform.

All low-tension consumers, including household services, can register on TNP-DCL website for auto-debit facility by submitting the bank account details and Aadhaar-based authentication.

Once the autopay facility is activated, the consumption charges will be automatically debited from the linked bank account on the 10th day from the date of assessment, and an e-receipt will be generated. TNP-DCL has also provided the option of cancelling the auto-debit facility on its website. In case of failure of payment due to insufficient funds and other reasons, the consumers will be informed through SMS and e-mail, and bill payment can be done through alternative modes.

Chennai Central gets electric patrol scooters

THE Railway Protection Force (RPF) has introduced electric three-wheeler patrol scooters at Dr. M.G.R. Chennai Central Railway Station to strengthen passenger safety, surveillance, and crowd management.

The newly deployed battery-operated vehicles, called 'TRIKE', will be used by RPF personnel for patrolling platforms, concourses, and circulating areas, particularly during peak hours when passenger movement is high.

Officials said the electric scooters are equipped with advanced features such as GPS tracking, RFID-based ignition systems, sirens, and public address systems. With a maximum speed of 15 km/h, the vehicles are designed to enable quick response during emergencies and improve on-ground assistance for passengers.

Railway authorities noted that the initiative will significantly enhance mobility for security personnel within the station premises, helping improve monitoring and rapid intervention in case of crowding or security concerns at one of Tamil Nadu's busiest railway hubs.

Similar electric patrol scooters are expected to be rolled out soon across other key stations under the Chennai Division.

Officials said the move is part of Indian Railways' broader modernisation and green mobility push, aimed at improving station security while adopting eco-friendly transportation solutions.

Motorists welcome shade net at busy Mogappair Junction

By N Rathi Chithra

In a welcome relief for commuters battling the scorching summer heat, green shade net has been installed above the traffic signal at the Park Road Junction near Padikuppam Road on the busy Thirumangalam-Mogappair stretch.

The initiative, undertaken by the Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC), has drawn appreciation from motorists, many of whom say the simple intervention has made waiting at the signal considerably more bearable during peak afternoon hours.

The shade net, stretched across portions of the junction, provides cover for vehicles halting at the signal. With temperatures soaring in recent weeks, motorists said even a few minutes under shade offers significant comfort.

"It may look like a small step, but it makes a big difference," said Ayyan, a daily commuter from Mogappair East. "Usually, waiting at this signal in the afternoon feels unbearable because of the direct heat. Now at least there is some protection."

Several motorists passing through the junction said similar shade arrangements should be introduced at other busy intersections in Anna Nagar, Mogappair and nearby neighbourhoods where traffic congestion forces commuters to wait for long periods under the sun.

"Signals at places such as Anna Nagar Roundtana, Collector Nagar and parts of Mogappair West also see heavy traffic. The Corporation should consider installing more shade nets there," said Supriya Raman, an office-goer who uses the stretch daily.

Auto-rickshaw drivers and two-wheeler riders, who are among the worst affected during summer afternoons, particularly welcomed the move. "For people like us who spend the whole day on the road, even a little shade is a blessing," said Selvam, an autorickshaw driver waiting at the signal.

However, the installation has also triggered a larger conversation on shrinking green cover and the disappearance of avenue trees that once naturally shaded roads.

"Years ago, roads in Anna Nagar and Mogappair had thick avenue trees. People could travel comfortably even during summer," said resident activist Balasubramanian. "Now many trees have been cut for road widening, Metro Rail work and infrastructure projects. Shade nets may help temporarily, but the long-term solution is restoring tree cover."

Some residents echoed similar concerns, pointing out that artificial shade structures should not become a substitute for sustainable urban planning.

"Cities need trees, not just temporary arrangements," said college student Deeptha. "The nets are useful, but this should also remind authorities about the importance of protecting and planting avenue trees"

Corporation officials said the initiative was aimed at providing immediate relief to road users during the peak summer season. Residents, meanwhile, hope the move will pave the way for both more commuter-friendly infrastructure and renewed attention to Chennai's fading urban greenery.

Renovation work on at Bougainville Park in Anna Nagar

By Our Correspondent

RENOVATION works are under way at the Bougainville Park in Anna Nagar, with the Greater Chennai Corporation taking up improvements aimed at enhancing public amenities and restoring the greenery in one of the neighbourhood's popular recreational spaces.

According to Corporation officials, the renovation is being carried out at the park located in Ward 102 under Zone VIII. The civic body has commenced concrete laying works and landscaping activities as part of the first phase of the revamp. The works are expected to improve walking facilities, seating arrangements and the overall appearance of the park, which is frequented by morning walkers, senior citizens and children from nearby residential areas.

Workers and heavy machinery were seen engaged in laying concrete pathways and carrying out beautification works inside the park premises. Officials said the renovation was being undertaken following requests from local residents for better maintenance and upgraded facilities.

A senior Corporation official said that the objective was to make the park safer and more accessible for visitors while preserving the existing tree cover. "The pathways inside the park had become uneven in several stretches due to wear and tear over the years. The renovation will help improve accessibility for senior citizens and children. Landscaping and maintenance works are also being carried out simultaneously," the official said.

Residents of Anna Nagar welcomed the initiative and expressed hope that the park would continue to retain its green character after the renovation. "Bougainville Park has been an important open space for residents in this area for many years. We are happy that the Corporation has finally taken up renovation works. At the same time, we hope the greenery and old trees are protected during the process," said

Srinivasan, a regular visitor to the park.

Another resident said parks played a crucial role in densely populated urban neighbourhoods. "People come here every day for walking, exercise and relaxation. Well-maintained parks are essential for mental and physical well-being, especially for children and elderly residents living in apartment complexes," she said.

Some residents also urged the civic body to ensure periodic maintenance after the renovation is completed.

"In many parks, facilities improve initially but later fall into neglect because of lack of upkeep. Regular maintenance, proper lighting and security are equally important," said a resident of Anna Nagar West.

Corporation officials said the ongoing works would be completed in phases and additional improvements would be considered based on public feedback and requirements of the locality.

Deadline ends: Pets without valid license to be fined

The Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC) had extended the deadline for obtaining or renewing pet licenses for dogs and cats and this came to an end on May 15. Owners who had not completed the process will have to face a penalty. The civic body had an upgraded online portal for obtaining licences for pets. Earlier, the deadline for obtaining licences had been fixed as December 14, 2025. The Corporation explained that the extension had been granted twice to ensure that all owners obtained or renewed licences within the stipulated period. From May 16 onwards, owners of dogs and cats without valid licences would be fined Rs 5,000. To assist owners, the free guidance for microchipping, anti-rabies vaccination and licensing procedures was being provided at 11 centres, including seven pet clinics and animal birth control (ABC) centres run by the Corporation. On the other side of it, animal activists alleged that the mandatory licensing drive had led to abandonment of dogs by owners of low income groups.

Southern Railway announces EMU, MEMU cancellations

Southern Railway announced changes in the pattern of EMU and MEMU trains, including partial and full cancellation of services from May 17 to June 19, owing to pre-non interlocking engineering works at Arakkonam Yard in the Central-Arakkonam section. While several train services between Tiruvalangadu and Arakkonam and back will be affected, city commuters may largely remain unaffected as only three trains originating from or terminating at Moore Market Complex will be fully cancelled in June. A release issued by Chennai Division said several MEMU services between Moore Market Complex and Tiruchanur, Vellore and Arakkonam will remain fully cancelled between June 6 and June 19, while a few services will be cancelled only on June 19. Several EMU and MEMU services between Arakkonam and Tirutani will also remain fully cancelled from May 17 to May 31. In addition, multiple suburban services between Moore Market Complex and Arakkonam will be partially cancelled between Tiruvalangadu and Arakkonam during the same period.

Yadesh hopes to be at the Asian Games this year

MS Yadesh Babu is one of the fastest growing swimmers in the country. The 22-year-old had a breakthrough in 2025, winning his maiden National title in the 50m Breaststroke at Bhubaneswar. He followed it up by being part of the winning team in the 4x100m Mixed Medley Relay. Yadesh, who is currently studying MBA in SRM University (Vadapalani), hopes to get selected for the 2026 Asian Games in Aichi-Nagoya, Japan. This is one of his main goals for this year. Swimming started as a fun activity before becoming a passion for Yadesh.

Having the full support of his parents: Mother Theeba and Father M V Suresh, Yadesh has been enjoying his pursuit of excellence in swimming without any pressure from his parents. Yadesh shares his views on growth in swimming, influence of coaches, his academy etc in a Whatsapp interview with Mogappair Mail.

Q: How did you get interested in swimming?

A: Yours Truly, my brother and dad would go to the government pool every weekend to chill and play. I learnt how to swim like that. It became a hobby. My school introduced swimming as an extracurricular activity. My brother made an initiative to join, convincing our parents by swimming in the school pool. The swimming teachers met my parents and suggested putting me in a professional club for competitive swimming at Madurai in 2014.

Q: On the role of your parents in your swimming growth.

A: My parents are one of the most supportive pillars for me. They don't have any expectations from my swimming because they know that having big expectations can put a lot of pressure mentally and physically on the child. They give their 100% from their side. My part is to work hard, besides being responsible with my swimming life.

Q: Where do you train everyday?

A: SDAT-Dolphin Swimming Academy (Chennai) by coaches KT Muraleedharan and Ms AR Rani Anisia.

Q: How many hours do you train everyday to become a better swimmer?

A: I usually train for five to six hours of swimming every day. I also work in the gym for about 60 to 90 minutes.

Q: What are your goals for 2026?

A: I will give my best in the upcoming Senior State and Nationals. I also hope to get selected for the 2026 Asian Games.

Q: Which swimmer inspired you the most?

A: S Danush is my inspiration. He pushes swimmers like me to higher levels. Danush sets a benchmark, which will challenge swimmers and push them hard. I have competed and raced with him till now. I always enjoy racing with him and learning many things.

Q: What are your other interests besides swimming?

A: My other interests are learning about new swimming updates and riding motorcycles.

(As told to K Srinivasa Raghavan, senior sports correspondent)

Hard work pays off: Coach

Taking a walk down memory lane was KT Muraleedharan and Mrs AR Rani Anisia the Chief and Head Coach respectively of SDAT Dolphin Swimming

Academy. "It has been a long journey with innumerable sacrifices and challenges faced, especially in the early years to secure funds to build the swimming pool. Though a patient wait, the ultimate dream to produce a champion of calibre now seems to become a reality," Muraleedharan opined.

"We feel proud that all the hard work, perseverance put in has now started to produce results. Today many talented swimmers are being groomed at our academy, showing great promise and dedication. Our ward Yadesh's selection as probable for the Asian Games in Aichi-Nagoya, Japan later this year stands testimony to it," he added.

"Our gratitude to SDAT for their great support and we look forward to continuing this journey in the years to come," he concluded.

Pragg Ends Sindarov's Unbeaten Run

By R Srinivasa Raghavan

Former Velammalian Rameshbabu Pragganandhaa ended the 53-game unbeaten streak (in classical) of Javokhir Sindarov in the second round of the Super Chess Classic in Bucharest on Friday. After suffering two losses to Uzbek at the recently concluded Candidates, Pragg played well to outwit Candidates winner in the second leg of Grand Chess Tour (GCT). Pragg shares the lead with Vincent Keymer and Maxime Vachier-Lagarve (all 1.5/2). Seven rounds still remain.

Pragg started the tournament on a shaky note, salvaging a draw from a losing position against Alireza Firouzja in the first round.

Vachier-Lagarve, who finished overall second in the last edition of GCT, posted a victory over his French compatriot Firouzja in a complicated game. It has been a good start for French No.2. Keymer was the third player to register his first win, which came at the expense of local hope Bogdan Daniel-Deac.

was the third player to register his first win, which came at the expense of local hope Bogdan Daniel-Deac.

Faustino 2nd Youngest GM

Faustino Oro became the second youngest Grandmaster (GM) in the history of chess, making his third GM norm at the Sardinia World Chess Festival in Sardinia, Italy. The Argentine youngster accomplished this feat in 12 years, six months and 26 days. USA's Abhimanyu Mishra holds the record for being the youngest GM, which was achieved in 12 years, four months and 25 days. Oro, who is dubbed as Messi of Chess, ended the tournament in 16th place, scoring six points.

Explosion in house causes panic among residents of Ambattur

By N Rathi Chithra

A cross-section of residents of a locality in Ambattur panicked on Thursday night when an explosion occurred at a residential building that was used by a caterer to store food and commercial LPG cylinders. The explosion occurred at Menambedu in Ambattur and local residents immediately alerted the Ambattur Police Station as well as the local Fire and Rescue Service Station. "We heard a loud explosion and immediately not only us but also the other residents rushed out of their homes. We sensed the explosion had occurred at an unoccupied house that was used for storage by a caterer. We saw smoke and fire and panicked as we believed it could be an explosive that had gone off," said a local resident, requesting that he be not named in the media report.

Police along with forensic personnel and sleuths of the bomb squad inspected the site of the explosion suspecting that country bombs could have possibly gone off at the house. However, there was no trace of explosive substance. Instead, according to police, the explosion was caused by a gas leak inside a room in the house where some commercial LPG cylinders were stored along with food raw materials.

A police officer said the room was completely sealed and had no ventilation due to which it was possible that the leaking gas accumulated rapidly, creating a highly volatile fuel-air mixture. Forensic officials, based on preliminary investigation, said that as the room was tightly shut, the gas that possibly leaked from one of the LPG cylinders, accumulated under pressure. Thereafter, an explosion occurred in a confined space, which is why it had blown off the room's walls and windows as well. However, a final conclusion on the cause for the explosion could be arrived, the officials said.

Since no one was staying in the house, there were no casualties or injuries. Police struggled to keep away curious onlookers and they had to eventually cordon off the locality to clear debris.
