CM's visit brings cheer to AIE workers

By Our Correspondent

HUNDREDS of industrial workers and locals in and around the Ambattur Industrial Estate were overjoyed to see Tamil Nadu Chief Minister C Joseph Vijay, who visited the neighbourhood this past Thursday.

The Chief Minister, accompanied by his cabinet colleague Keerthana and senior officials including the Tamil Nadu Chief Secretary M Sai Kumar, arrived at the vast SIDCO Industrial Estate in Ambattur as part of an official engagement. Vijay had come to inaugurate the Singapore-based Capital and Data Centre Chennai at the Industrial Estate in Ambattur.

As news of his arrival spread, hundreds of his film fans and admirers gathered on either side of the road leading up to the Industrial Estate to greet him. The crowd burst into boisterous cheers on seeing the actor-turned Chief Minister arrive dressed in a black blazer, white shirt and black trousers. Vijay walked around greeting them and waving his hand.

"I was super excited to see Vijay, my thalaivar (leader). I have never before seen him in flesh and blood. I have only enjoyed watching him on the big screen in theatres and on television screens," said Poovarasi, a worker at the Industrial Estate in Ambattur.

After waving and exchanging greetings with his fans and supporters, the Chief Minister got down to his official engagements. An official release from the Government of Tamil Nadu said Vijay held bilateral talks with the Deputy Prime Minister of Singapore Gan Kim Yong on strengthening economic ties between Tamil Nadu and Singapore and attracting more investments from Singapore to the State. The Singapore Deputy Prime Minister also holds the portfolio of the country's Minister for Energy, Trade and Industrial (Trade) and he too participated in the inaugural of the data centre in Ambattur.

Anna Nagar records lowest turnout at special electoral camps

By N Rathi Chithra

ANNA NAGAR recorded the lowest turnout at the special electoral camps held on October 10 and 11 for voters seeking inclusion of their names in the electoral rolls, despite the constituency witnessing a sharp decline in its electorate following the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) exercise ahead of the 2026 Assembly elections.

Election officials received just 48 Form 6 applications from Anna Nagar residents seeking inclusion of their names in the electoral rolls during the two-day drive, the lowest among the 16 Assembly constituencies in Chennai district. The poor response comes even as the constituency saw its electorate shrink considerably following the revision exercise.

According to Election Commission of India figures, Anna Nagar had an electorate of 2,86,090 before the SIR. Following the exercise, the number of eligible voters dropped to 1,88,861, marking a decline of 97,229 voters.

The low turnout at the special camps has raised concerns over whether residents whose names were omitted from the electoral rolls are coming forward to apply for inclusion. It is said to be unusual to see such a low turnout in Anna Nagar for a special camp, particularly given the scale of the reduction in the constituency's electorate.

A resident from Anna Nagar said officials and election observers may now have to focus on improving awareness about the special camps and the process of restoring omitted names. "Greater publicity through resident welfare associations, local networks and other community channels could encourage more people to verify their electoral status and submit the required forms," Ganesamoorthy, a resident, said.

Across Chennai district, the response to the special camps was poor, with election officials issuing 3,364 forms and receiving 2,483 applications during the two-day drive, according to the Chennai District Election Office.

Thiru Vi Ka Nagar (SC) recorded the highest number of applications received, with 379 residents submitting forms. The constituency also saw 493 forms being issued during the drive. Of these, 289 were Form 6 applications, while 90 applications were submitted in Form 8 for shifting of residence and correction of entries.

Among other constituencies, Virugambakkam received 294 Form 6 applications, followed by Kolathur with 215, Thousand Lights with 155, Mylapore with 120 and Perambur with 110. Villivakkam recorded 57 applications, while Velachery received 56, placing them among the constituencies with relatively low numbers.

Velammal Vidyalaya, Ayanavaram, hosted an exciting basketball show by Dunking Devils. The talented performers amazed students with spectacular slam dunks, thrilling aerial stunts and extraordinary basketball skills.

Dog sterilisation centre now in Ambattur

A new dog sterilisation centre and pet hospital, built at a cost of Rs 2.30 crore in Ambattur zone, was inaugurated at the Athipattu solid waste management facility. Spread across 5,300 sq ft, the facility has an operation theatre, laboratory, pharmacy, pet treatment room, kennels to accommodate 150 dogs, 100 rooms, a kitchen, doctors' room and toilets.

Sterilisation surgeries on 35 stray dogs per day can also be performed here. Stray dogs caught in Ambattur and Anna Nagar zones will be brought to the centre for sterilisation and anti-rabies vaccination. The facility is the 14th centre operated by the GCC.

Twin LPG cylinder explosions in Mogappair trigger concern

By N Rath Chithra

THE explosion of two LPG cylinders following a fire at a house in Mogappair West this past Sunday has renewed concerns over domestic gas safety, with residents calling for regular awareness programmes and safety demonstrations by LPG agencies to prevent accidents.

According to police sources, the fire broke out at the house of Geetha (40), who lives in a hut in Mogappair West with her son and daughter and runs a flower business for a living.

The incident occurred when Geetha's daughter was alone at home and asleep. She woke up to find thick smoke filling the house and rushed outside to alert neighbours. Within minutes, the fire spread rapidly, engulfing the house and triggering explosions of two LPG cylinders kept inside.

The loud blasts sent residents in the neighbourhood rushing out of their homes in panic, fearing that the fire could spread to nearby houses.

Fire and Rescue Services personnel from the Ambattur Industrial Estate and J.J. Nagar stations rushed to the scene and brought the blaze under control.

The incident comes months after a similar explosion at Menambedu in Ambattur in May. In that case, an explosion occurred in a room at a residential building used by a caterer to store food supplies and commercial LPG cylinders.

The two incidents have prompted residents to stress the need for greater awareness of LPG safety, particularly in densely populated neighbourhoods where a fire or explosion can put neighbouring households at risk. Residents have called on gas agencies to conduct periodic demonstrations in residential areas, showing consumers how to check cylinder connections, identify damaged pipes and faulty regulators, and safely operate domestic LPG installations.

They pointed out that household members sometimes forget to switch off the gas stove knob or the regulator attached to the cylinder after cooking. "Such lapses, along with faulty connections or unnoticed leaks, can create dangerous situations if gas accumulates in an enclosed space," pointed out Kameshwari, a resident of Mogappair neighbourhood.

Residents said regular demonstrations could help households understand the importance of checking connections, ensuring adequate ventilation and recognising the warning signs of a gas leak.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Plea for restoration of S51 bus service

Sir,

I wish to bring to your kind attention the difficulties faced by the residents and daily commuters of Mogappair area due to the discontinuation or diversion of regular S51 bus services along the previously existing route (Mogappair East - Corporation School - Vijayabank - Mogappair West).

Due to road repair works, buses were diverted from their usual route three months back, causing considerable inconvenience to the general public, including students, office-goers, senior citizens, and other daily commuters.

Now that the Corporation school road repair works have now been completed it would be helpful if the regular S51 bus services resume along the previously existing route, maintain regular bus timings and adequate frequency for the convenience of the public.

Restoration of the original S51 bus route will greatly benefit the residents and commuters who depend on public transport for their daily needs. Hope necessary action will be taken in the interest of the general public.

Praggnanandhaa no doubt is one of the best in 2026

By R Srinivasa Raghavan

RAMESHBABU Praggnanandhaa can be termed as one of the best chess players in 2026. He started the year on a rough note, struggling in the Tata Steel Masters, finishing 11th. He had a disappointing Candidates finishing seventh with 6/14. He has been having a tough time for the last six months. In Oslo, he turned it around magically, defeating world's best player Magnus Carlsen twice. Posting four straight wins in his last four games earned him the Norway

Chess title.

Winning the Norway Chess crown bolstered his confidence immensely. Struggles were the thing of the past as he got better results. Javokhir Sindarov's 53-game unbeaten streak came to an end in Bucharest, when Pragg defeated him in the first leg of the Grand Chess Tour. He followed it by winning an individual gold on top board for Chess Gurukul in World Rapid Team Chess Championship in Hong Kong. His team finished fifth. He is a product of the Velammal School in Mogappair.

Pragg's attitude of playing every game for a win has worked wonders for him. He is winning a lot of games, which is the key for winning tournaments. The Grand Chess Tour was one of the big events apart from Candidates. He went to USA with the aim of making the Final Four of the Grand Chess Tour, having one rapid and one classical tournament.

The fourth leg of the Tour went like a dream. He won the St Louis Rapid and Blitz title, topping the rapid section with 12 points. In the blitz section, he performed sufficiently to win the title with 23.5 points, 1.5 points higher than the rest of the field.

The title got him in contention for the Tour's Final spot. In the Sinquefield Cup in St Louis, he had an inspired show, tying for first place with Wesley So. However, he lost the ensuing playoff to So in an Armageddon game. Topping the GCT standings, he qualified for the Final Four with So, Fabiano Caruana and Vincent Keymer.

Pragg triumphed in the Grand Chess Tour Finals, overcoming Fabiano Caruana in a tight final (15-13) for his maiden Tour title. It was his best achievement so far. In the semifinals, Pragg convincingly won against Keymer 19-9, while Caruana overcame So 18-12. Importantly, Pragg's victory earned him a berth for the 2027 Tour.

Defending champions India went to the Chess Olympiad with high hopes. They justified it by winning silver with 18 match points.

Remaining undefeated, the former Velammal student Pragg performed well on the top board (6.5/10) and won an individual bronze. India played well as a team. World champion D Gukesh regained form with an inspired show on the fourth board (8.5/11), which earned him an individual silver. Uzbekistan won the gold with 20 match points. Germany came third with 18 points.

Pragg became the No.1 ranked Indian player with a rating of 2763 (7th in the world).
